MESSAGE FROM THE PRINCIPAL

A warm welcome to Seva Bharati Mahavidyalaya!

Seva Bharati Mahavidyalaya, a dream-project of Prof. P.K.Sen, is dedicated to the service of the nation through dissemination of higher education for more than fifty years. I feel honoured to be part of the grand tradition of Seva Bharati Mahavidyalaya and shall strive sincerely to uphold the rich academic and humanistic traditions here. The wonderful atmosphere created by the lush greenery, pollution-free environs, excellent infrastructural facilities, well-qualified and dedicated faculty, and surely, the efficient and liberal administration, have together acted as vital ingredients in the making this Mahavidyalaya par excellence.

Its excellent academic ambience bearing a rich culture and heritage facilitates seamless learning experience and therefore attracts meritorious students not only from all parts of the district, even sometimes outside the district. The Mahavidyalaya provides an environment that allows the students to realize their potential in full and to develop their individuality and skills through an inclusive concept of education. Our goal is to arm the students with an extraordinary sense of humanity and a creative intellect, thereby equipping them with the ability to work independently and intellectually which are essential for achieving leadership in the present scenario of 21st century.

I wish you all the best.

MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

I heartily welcome all to Seva Bharati Mahavidyalaya!

The establishment of Seva Bharati Mahavidyalaya on 17th of July, 1964 marked the fruition of the dream of Dr. Pabitra Kumar Sen, an eminent educationist, who was prompted by the urgent necessity of providing the young minds of the remote poor village and its adjacent areas with quality higher education. The past five decades and more of the college's existence have been a chronicle of triumph as the College has kept progressing undaunted by the countless adversities along its path of progress to reach the status of a reliable and reputed institute and to meet the needs of the students of remote Jangal Mahal region for higher education. But even after the passage of 50 years, the journey for Seva Bharati Mahavidyalaya has just begun because many destinations of success need to be negotiated, many peaks of excellence remain to be conquered. The College is sincerely dedicated to fulfil its mantra: "Tapasya" (Devotion), "Seva" (Service) and "Pragati" (Progress).

Our commitment to quality education, eco-friendly environment, high academic vibrancy, qualified and dedicated teaching faculties have made the Mahavidyalaya one of the premier institutes in the district. The Mahavidyalaya is proud of its superb infrastructural facilities, pollution-free environment, student-friendly policies, etc. that create a satisfying academic ambience.

I invite all of you to experience the excellence of the academic hub of Seva Bharati Mahavidyalaya and wish you all the best.

Sri Jhulan Kumar Mohanty
President

HISTORY & HERITAGE

With the advent of national freedom in 1947, great hopes were enkindled in the hearts of Indian people. The unprecedented enthusiasm of the countrymen to rebuild their own country and stand on their own motivated a number of patriotic scholars to join hands with the people, the overwhelmingly large majority of whom lived in the villages. A few of them resolved to step out of their ivory towers and dedicated themselves to the task of national re-constructions beginning with work in the countryside. Professor Pabitra Kumar Sen, then a senior Governmental officer, was one among the few who gave up their lucrative position and power of government, and silently marched down to the duty to join hands with the downtrodden masses in the rural backwaters to translate the popular dream of national reconstruction to action.

Prof. Sen realized that our ancient system of education (Gurukula and Gurugriha) had an ingrained evolutionary phenomenon that ensured a linkage between the intellectual stalwarts and life at the grass roots which imparted to the village the characteristics of a man-and-nature community. This proved the worth of education in the development human potentialities through inculcation of common unity and creative feelings. It provided a cultural system of self-generating village commonwealth operating through co-operation and regulation of competitions with a priority on ecological interdependence over exploitation that resulted in successive pages of prosperity and glory, basically ensuring full employment in production of necessities of life and in social service and flowering of human faculties.

Seva Bharati Mahavidyalaya is located in the village of Kapgari. It is surrounded by a cluster of nearly fifty villages around it in the Jamboni Block in the sub-division of Jhargram in the Jhargram district of West Bengal. It is 20 km. off in the West from Jhargram town (at 20° 50' North and 87° 00' East longitude) and 11 km. off in the North from nearest Gidhni Railway station on South-Eastern Railway between Tatanagar and Kharagpur, and 10 km. away from Jamboni Police Station. The distance from Calcutta is 186 km. by road.

There was only one impoverished metal road from Jhargram passing by a distance of 2 km. from the village. Education was unknown. The area was highly drought-prone. The land was undulated, the soil lateritic, and rainfall was normally low; less than 1% of the land was irrigated. A single monsoon paddy was the only crop cultivated and yield was very poor. Market, road and other infrastructural facilities were absent. The villages are predominantly inhabited by poor people belonging to Scheduled Tribe, Scheduled Castes and other backward communities of caste Hindus and Muslims. Poverty is so widespread that the people live much below the 'poverty line'. As a result, the area presents a very gloomy picture of increasing joblessness, abysmal poverty and moral degradation. In fact this area falls within the jurisdiction of one of the three most backward areas of West Bengal. The Raja of Chilkigarh, the local Zamindar was good enough to make 40 acres of waste land lying in the boarder of Kapgari and two adjacent villages of Bagda and Panrusuli, available on permanent lease to Prof. Sen to embark upon his cherished work. He purchased another 10 acres from villagers to make the area contiguous and compact. Seva Bharati got into a modest start in November 1947 with the help of some of Prof. Sen's family members and with cooperation of the local people belonging to Kapgari and nearby villages. In the first six years, Seva Bharati saw a grim struggle for its existence. In 1953 Seva Bharati came to be duly registered as a voluntary society devoted to educational work, and its funds and properties were vested on a Board of Trustees. The Society has now 125 acres of land for its various institutions. Approximately 75 acres are under Krishi Bigyan Kendra, agricultural farms and allied projects and about 50 acres are devoted to the college, schools, and other institutional buildings, residential quarters, playground etc.

HISTORY & HERITAGE

Professor Sen realized that without the development of village, the development of West Bengal as well as India was a far cry. For this very purpose he established Junior Basic School, Senior Basic School, Higher Secondary (XIth Class) School with Agriculture, Pre-Basic, Village Health Centre and an Agriculture Research Centre. In 1963, 8 students of Agriculture appeared in XIth Class Final Examination, out of which 7 students secured second division. Out of the guardians of seven students, two very poor solemnly requested to Prof. Sen to establish a college to continue their wards' education in their village. This heartfelt request moved Prof. Sen deeply.

After that, initiatives for establishment of a college were taken heartily and a Governing Body for College was formed under the Presidentship of Prof. Sen and Sri Debidas Biswas, a visionary local, was the Secretary of the proposed Governing Body. Every afternoon the members of the body used to collect donation in kind and cash from the surrounding area. Many local people donated physical labour for this great endeavour. Cumulating the donation the required amount needed for creation of Reserve Fund was not achieved. So Prof. Sen sold out his house situated at Jhargram town and Sri Biswas sold all the jewellery and ornaments of his wife. In this way, the required amount for Reserve Fund was reached.

After necessary inspection the Calcutta University approved the proposed Seva Bharati Mahavidyalaya on the 17th July, 1964 and permitted to admit, some Arts subjects at UG level and the college started its voyage with only 65 students in 1964-65. It was the outcome of sincere efforts and active support, both moral and financial, of Prof. Sen and some of the enlightened and farsighted local people. The avowed purpose was to cater to the need of higher education of the students of SC, ST-dominated, underdeveloped and socially underprivileged backward rural area of Jhargram Sub-Division of erstwhile Midnapore district. Empowering the poor and academically backward people of Kapgari and its adjoining areas was the sole aim and objective of founding the Seva Bharati Mahavidyalaya.

The name “Seva Bharati” suggests that the ideal India can only be constituted on the noble principle of “seva” or service. The word “Bharati” is pregnant with significance; one meaning of “Bharati” is speech, another learning, yet another, the presiding deity of India. The college is dedicated to this noble service since its establishment, and it has completed its fifty years of glorious service to the Nation. The motto of the college is “Tapasya, Seva, Pragati” — which means that the development of either the Nation or of the individual is a progressive concept, which can be achieved through sincere contemplation and selfless service. The education can only be achieved through “Tapasya” or contemplation, as Swami Vivekananda says: “To me the very essence of education is concentration of mind....” The knowledge acquired through contemplation is not for one’s personal utility; it should be disseminated among the people around us through service for the realization of the true significance of education. The “Pragati” or progress of India would come through the enlightenment of the society. The eight images of flowers scattered within the flower-wheel of the logo symbolize the progressive and full flowering of human potentials along with the growth of life.

The Mahavidyalaya is situated amidst the quiet natural surroundings, and can boast of a healthy ambience conducive for healthy body and mind. It is located amidst the serene and sylvan surroundings and tribal villages. It consists of grasslands interspersed with patches of dense bamboo and Sal forests, criss-crossed by streams, pollution-free environs, excellent infrastructural facilities, well-equipped and dedicated faculty to create perfect place for study. It has been providing an opportunity for higher education in Arts, Science and Commerce streams to the first generation learners of the extensive tribal belt of Paschim Medinipur district for such a long time. Though the Mahavidyalaya faced different forms of obstacles like financial crunch, lack of permanent posts, uneasy communication etc. still the college is marching ahead with its sole objective of providing quality education irrespective of caste, creed, religion, financial and physical health status of the students.

AFFILIATION

Seva Bharati Mahavidyalaya was formerly affiliated to the University of Calcutta and since 1st June 1985 the college has been affiliated to Vidyasagar University, Paschim Medinipore, West Bengal and recognized under section 2(f) and included under Section 12(B) of UGC Act 1956.

OUR VISION

Our vision is to transform our Mahavidyalaya into a centre of excellence in the arena of higher education and contribute to the inclusive development of the country by generating quality human resources. The Mahavidyalaya aims at the holistic development of the young learners and hopes to mould them into young citizens of the nation who are dependable, honest, committed and possess a sound value system. Swami Vivekananda says: “Education is not the amount of information that is put into your brain and runs riot there, undigested, all your life. We must have life-building, man-making, character-making assimilation of ideas.” With this vision, Seva Bharati Mahavidyalaya aims at imparting an education that not only propels the students up the career ladder, but also empowers rural people including women and makes them independent and successful citizens.

OUR MISSION

- To provide quality education to the students who basically belong to the economically disadvantaged section of the society.
