

Birds Around Us: Science and Emotion

Edited By

Dr. Debabrata Das

Dr. Pampi Ghosh

Dr. J. K. De

Bharti Publications

New Delhi- 110002 (INDIA)

- 219-235
16. Birds of Malnad Ranges in the Central Western Ghats of Southern India
Hemantha Raj M and Ivan Aranha
- 236-250
17. Assemblage of Winter Water Birds in Chupi Oxbow Lake, Purbasthali, Purba Bardhaman, West Bengal
Lina Chatterjee, Arjan Basu Roy, Tarak Samanta, Bulganin Mitra
- 251-258
18. Diversity of Pet Birds and Conservation Measures in and Around the Country
Dr. Pampi Ghosh
- 259-270
19. Avian Diversity and Conservation Measures in Midnapore Town of West Bengal
Atmaja Avirupa Das
- 271-283
20. Avian Diversity and Ecosystem Characteristics to Qualify IBAs in India
Dr. Debabrata Das
- 284-297
21. A Comprehensive View of South India's Avian Diversity
M Keerthana and C Maheswari
- 298-303
- Birds of Different Species Seen at Various Habitats of India
Prabir Mukherjee

ABSTRACT

In forests we case birds though some are used as open birds but they are available in and around the premises of village people. Common example is myna but black-hooded oriole, black-naped oriole and grey oriole are pet birds in many village areas. But in case birds, many are threatened and need protection though people sale these species. Pigeons, Java sparrow, parrots, cocktails and parakeets are available in markets. Different colourful munias are also marketed. In this communication some common and available pet birds in market and village fair have been presented with field notes. Hope that this article will encourage people to know more pet birds and to study cage birds better in a fruitful way for conserving bird of cage kind.

Keywords: Cage birds, Pet birds, Use value, Conservation, Status and management.